

Angelic Light Weaving

Angelic Light Weaving is a healing modality that uses energy transmitted from the angelic realm. The hand motions are encoded with information containing sacred geometry, colors, and shapes known as Light Language. Angelic Light Weaving is etheric field restructuring. It can be used to raise and clear the vibration of people, places or even objects.

During the 4-hour Angelic Light Weaving class you will:

- ▶ Meet your personal Light Weaving Angel, as well as Ascended Master Sethius
- ▶ Learn to light weave for yourself and others for healing, inspiration, clearing and many other intentions

Jen Bucko

My spiritual journey began with some pushes from my soul, much like I'm sure happens to most people on this path. I have spent a number of years, through many various experiences, releasing that which no longer serves me so that I may grow towards living a soul driven life – realizing, accepting and trusting my spiritual gifts. I attended a 2-year energy practitioner program at the PA School of Spiritual Healing. I am attuned to and practice Reiki, Angelic Light Weaving, and Axiatonal Alignment.

As a co-creator and producer of the Journeys with Judy Facebook show, and in conversation with many members of the spiritual community, I saw a need for my experience in developing marketing materials and other general organizational and business skills. I've created Alignment Marketing & Consulting, LLC to bring my 20 plus years of experience in business, marketing and project management to the spiritual community that I love! As a Marketing Consultant, I am offering support for development of marketing materials, websites, and social media management, combined with my understanding of the spiritual nature of healing work.

I am the founder of Powered by Your Soul, LLC. I am a spiritually based Energy Practitioner who uses multiple modalities to assist my clients in releasing old outdated beliefs and emotions which are preventing them from living the life they desire.

Through Reiki, Angelic Light Weaving, Axiatonal Alignment, Energy Healing, and Intuitive Readings, I provide my clients with the tools they need to re-discover their joy and find their purpose. Together, we create a stress free, non-judgmental environment which allows for healing to begin. This healing can lead to a life filled with abundance. An abundance of love, joy, laughter, gratitude, financial security and whatever else your Soul desires.

My practice is located at Journeys Holistic Health and Wellness Center in York, PA, but I am also available for distance sessions.
